Answer 1

Answer: Respect plays an important role in our lives. Our parents teach us to respect our hopes, our elders, our younger ones and every thing that is alive. Respect is a thing that keeps you High like stars in the sky. If you want that achievement, you have to give respect to others so they can give respect back as you are giving them. As we grow up, we get to know that how much respect values. We come to know that how much we depend on self respect. If we don't respect our selves than we have no right to get respected. Respect is an honorable achievement which everyone should try to get and not to lose.
